Aura and Biotensor testing The basis of my work is the work on the energy body, the aura. The perception of subtle energies has developed over many years of work aura of great precision, and is an integral part of my exercise area. About the aura and Biotensortestung it is possible to penetrate into areas that go far beyond the possibilities of the mind and intellect. Subtle healing methods such as:

Homeopathy Acupuncture and moxibustion Set of cups Bach Flower Therapy Schüssler salts Crystal healing Aura-Soma Color Therapy Rune-Laryngology Aromatherapy with essential oils can be applied very specifically for physical, mental and spiritual processes by Auratestung. It can be identified:

which method best uses, depending on the patient how this method can be applied very precisely. Through the subtle healing aurate gain "tangibility" and lose the esoteric connotation of "one must believe turn". To believe in something is certainly helpful, as with all things in life, but the above methods of treatment effect even when doubters, assuming it was correct (eg about the Auratestung applied). Even the acknowledged uncertainty about the right homeopathic remedy, the dilution level and the dosage has a unique solution: reaction of the Aura significantly in strength and energy increase, we can expect a good effect, also needed if the effect on physical or psychological support is still time. These are subtle to reproducible results.

About the Aura The human energy field is also known as an aura. The Aura is part of the universal energy field that surrounds us and can furthermore be regarded as a filter, the energy from outside to inside (the body) or from within leads to the outside.

The Aura is a reflection of the character, attitude and above all health. Therefore, results from our feelings, thoughts, and a health impact on our environment, and from the environment is strongly influenced our inner world. Thus, an environment with positive thinking people a restorative effect.

The aura is divided into several layers, which are also called Aurakörper. These layers overlap and interpenetrate each other and have different properties and functions. stored in the aura are called chakras, a funnel-looking energy vortex (see accompanying chart), which are located on the body front and back of the body. The crown chakra is purple, for example, in a healthy state, the color, and is in the level of higher consciousness connection. Thus, each chakra (energy center =) its special color and its specific task.

Nourished by the aura of life energy (Chi, Prana, Orgon is ,...), which gives the body vitality. The life energy comes from food, air, and the parents given to us by the "Kidney Chi. Kidney Chi is like a battery, which discharges itself in the course of life, but can be refilled by real life. Kidney Chi is used up, the person dies. The health status is largely determined by the amount of incoming energy of life, as dark and morbid energies are flushed out by really bright energy. Vital energy supplies high-quality food, fresh air, sunlight, nature in general.

A powerful aura is also a kind of shield against energy from outside. These energies contribute more to invade us, however, this in depth. So we are e.g. after a week's holiday at the mountain hiking full Prana (Prana through the clean nature), while the other hand, we feel exhausted after a few hours in Verkehrsmog the highway and stressed. Equally distressing is the constant contact with sick people, as well as their energy field is slowly infiltrate us and we can also make you sick.

With our energy field, we attract people who have a similarly stored Aurastruktur. For example, create sympathy or antipathy. The broadcasting of our aura causes even other organisms to certain reactions (some are of otherwise loving lap dog growled, others never!)

The aura includes all the past experiences of childhood, birth from the womb and in earlier life (if you would like to believe) and it includes feelings, thoughts, structures and also previous actions.

You can about the connection to higher self will be used by the receiver Scheitelchakra of intuitive information.

A dangerous situation triggers a "funny" feeling in my stomach, even if it is currently only times can not comprehend rationally.

It is definitely an advantage to have a strong aura.

The Aura Diagnosis The human organism has as said above every living being an energy field that the vitality, as well as the physical and mental health of a people determined. can be said specifically: Is the aura of great and wide, you feel good, you have strength, is full of energy and physical and mental health occur. Is the aura narrow and small, you feel weak and without drive, without defenses. If this condition persists, thrives on this soil sickness, pain and degeneration of physical and mental, and spiritual level.

By Aura-diagnosis can be dark and weak points identified in the aura. Here the aura by blocking the body's energy is dark and small. The underlying physical body is then either already damaged or is still sick by Prolonged lack of energy. It can thus before the appearance of an organic disease is a subtle diagnosis. The Aura - diagnosis occur real prevention, one way to prevent diseases long before disease symptoms.

Treatment of the Aura As the aura that connects to the higher self is to be in it the answer to the 'pure' on a physical, mental and spiritual level already included and can be queried. About the Aura can be obtained in the therapy session is the most appropriate treatment method and its precise mode of application.

In Auratestung a "tonic" for the Aura sought, which is a small, dark aura makes far back and strong. If the energy in one place again hegestellt, responding not only the treated area but the whole aura. This can be a homeopathic or herbal medicine, can be a blood injection, an acupuncture needle or other natural remedies (of course can especially with life-threatening highly acute diseases, an orthodox medical therapy to strengthen the aura, with chronic diseases, the aura but speaks in more on natural healing methods). No matter what the "tonic" is applied in every case, the body is assisted in his recovery effort, which he summon their own initiative.

Conversely, the body can re-supplied energy to heal and do its job better, and you feel a whole vital. Miracles can come with the aura of work not done and destroyed institutions may need substitute conventional medicine. But it can be extracted maximum potential, and many diseases are quickly accepted as incurable.

The aura of responding immediately to the tested measures. However, there are usually several restorative measures are necessary, until a desired result sets, depending on how strong the "foundation" of the disease. In particular, long-lasting diseases need a lot of recovery time, because it enshrined a sick energy with time more and more in the aura.

If the patient has little patience with him and wants to fight with the symptom of power (for example, the infection ect with lots of nasal sprays, pain killers.), So leading to the so-called "oppression". This is expressed as a relapse or disease susceptibility or as a shift from symptoms to other body sites. The initial symptom may be gone at the moment, the energetic blockage remains unresolved or is at worst exacerbated when an energetic aura therapy. In homeopathy, this effect is known as "aggravation".
